Canadians should continue to eat at low cost

Jim Webster, Progressive Conservative Candidate for Victoria-Haliburton, believes that it is important that Canadians continue eating at a low cost on the world scale.

In his campaign launching rally held at the Ops community centre last week Mr. Webster said that only a few generations ago the majority of people in Ontario were directly involved in agriculture.

"The last few decades have seen such significant changes in farming practices and such increases in farm productivity that now only one or two people are involved in growing food for every 98 or 99 of us who are eating it," he said.

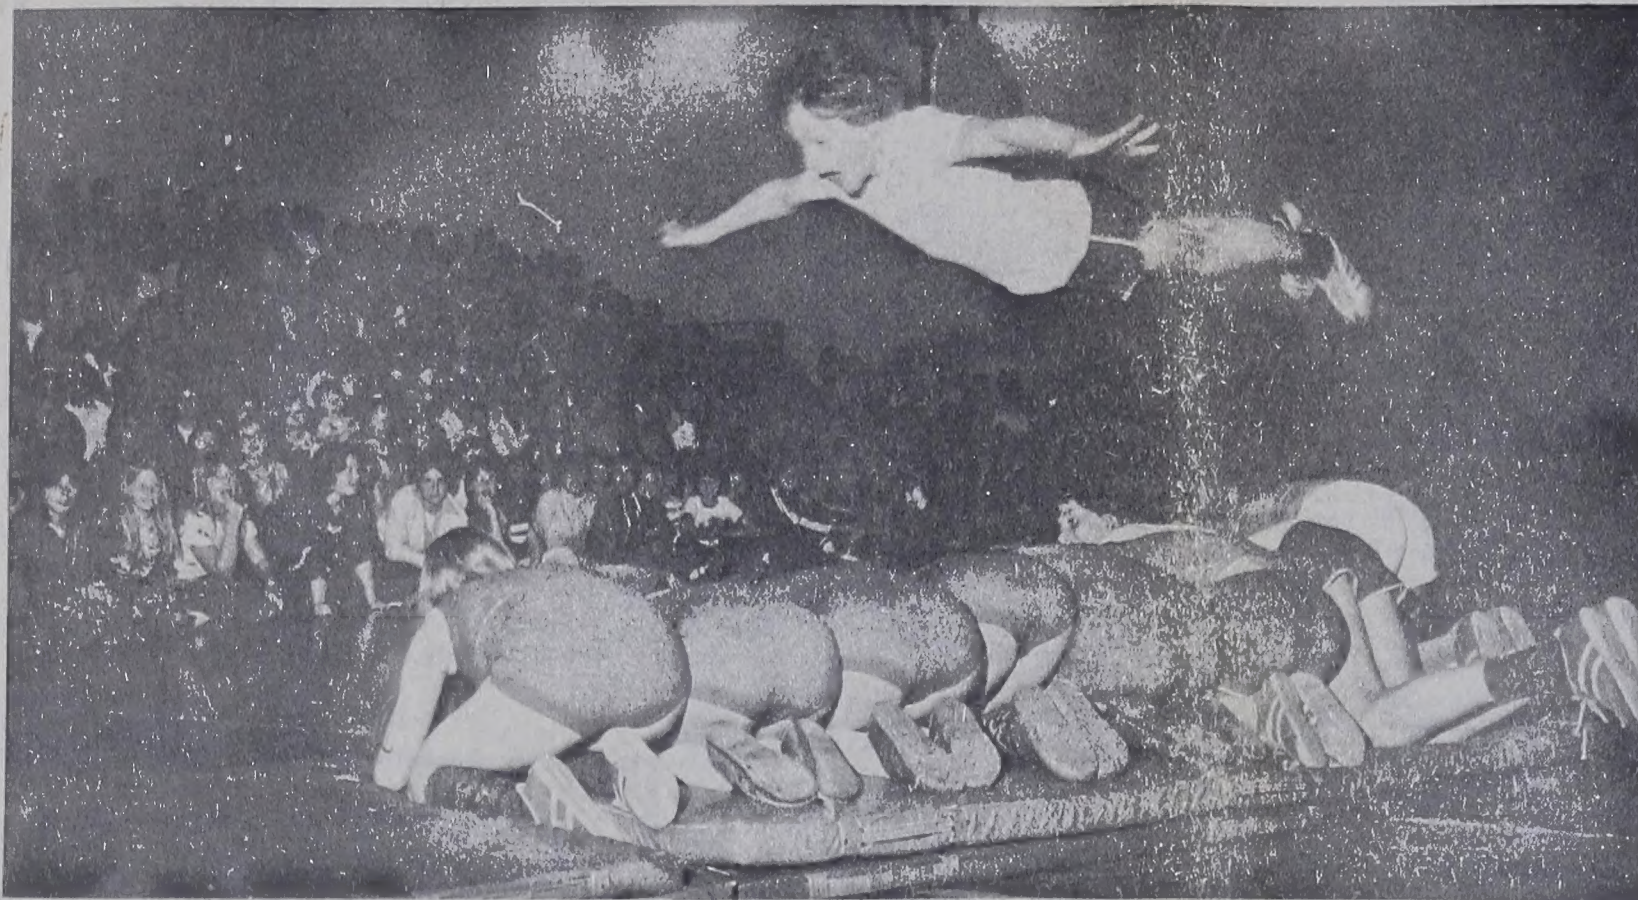

He pointed out that the average family in Ontario spends 19 per cent of its income on food compared to 25 per cent in Japan and Britain and 53 per cent in the Soviet Union.

"I expect that the latter figure is a direct result of a state-run agricultural system. That system removes the effort, for better management, for thrift and innovation, just some of the characteristics which have made the Ontario farmer so productive," he said.

Mr. Webster noted that it is ironic that extra productivity can threaten a farmer's livelihood. He pointed out that a slight shift in balance between supply and demand can result in disastrous drops in prices to farmers.

"Unfortunately, this drop in price is rarely carried to the consumer," he said.

Mr. Webster said the best guarantee that the housewife has for reasonable food costs in the future is the maintenance of a healthy Ontario and Canadian agricultural community.

David Bishop, Grade 8 of Haliburton Highland Senior Elementary School, was part of a thrilling gymnastics display last Wednesday. He made the jump over seven classmates without injury. More than 300 persons showed up for the Activity Night featuring the school band, floor hockey, a grade four choir and cheerleaders. For more information see page 11.

Board can't stop foster family

The Haliburton County Board of Education "doesn't have any legal position" with respect to the Gervais family's decision to move a family of 13 to a Haliburton location and enroll the children in the school system, according to board chairman Richard Poole.

"It's a closed matter as far as we're concerned," Mr. Poole said last Wednesday, following some investigation on the matter that was brought before the Tuesday meeting of trustees. He agreed with Gabrielle Gervais, foster mother of 10 children and mother of three, ranging in age from eight to 14, who noted at the board meeting that "education can be refused to no one in Canada."

Mr. Gervais and her husband Raymond are foster parents of children placed with them by the Catholic Children's Aid. The children are from broken homes, where one or both parents have died or the parents have separated, and "are not disturbed children," Mrs. Gervais told the trustees.

A letter of reference from the principal of Santa Maria elementary school, where the Gervais children have attended, was read to the board and confirmed that the children make normal progress in the school system. "I do not hesitate to recommend this family to any community, for they will contribute individually and as a family," the letter from principal Eugene McCallum concluded.

Trustees had a number of questions to ask Mrs. Gervais, who came to the board to explain the arrangements within their home and to ask for approval of the board to enroll the children in Haliburton schools.

Mrs. Gervais noted, that there was another way that she could have proceeded, and that was to move to the area without notifying the board or asking permission.

Mr. Poole said Wednesday that he appreciated the fact that Mr. Gervais had come to the board, but that the board could make no resolution in favor or opposed to the move since they had no jurisdiction over it.

Inquiries were made Wednesday to determine the board's jurisdiction, as Mr. Poole had promised Mrs. Gervais Tuesday night that he would look into the matter.

As a result, a letter was sent by Douglas Hodgson, as secretary of the board to Mrs. Gervais on Wednesday to clarify the Board's position.

Mr. Poole noted that the letter explained they made no objection, but re-stated two concerns: that there might be a problem with bussing, even though Mrs. Gervais assured the board that they would bus the children themselves if necessary, and that if the children would ever have occasion to need special education, the school system might not have the facilities to provide it.

Recreation director topic of meeting

Felix Walker, co-ordinator of the Recreation Development section of Sir Sandford Fleming College, will be speaking at the regular meeting of the Haliburton County Social Planning Council, May 26, in Carnarvon. The meeting will be held at the United Church, beginning at 10 a.m. The meeting will be open to the public.

Stanhope council working to keep Canada works

Stanhope council spent some time at last Wednesday's meeting discussing how to keep the men on their Canada Works program working.

Most of the general needs projects that were to be covered by the $21,997, allocated at the beginning of April, have been completed. The renovations to the present Stanhope municipal office is the only remaining project among those originally proposed.

The federal grant, through Manpower, has provided Stanhope Township with wages for approximately five men, from now until December.

Clean-up of the Beech Lake Look Out, repainting of the old town hall, brushing and clearing of trails and general repairs were due to be finished by last Friday, Stanhope clerk Gerald Bain told council.

Council had considered leaving the renovations of the municipal building until next fall, when the office is not as busy, but decided that they should go ahead with what was on the original proposal as soon as possible.

"We were within a hair of not getting it, so we have to use it for what we said we would," Reeve Sinclair Nesbitt warned.

Council also discussed additional projects to be taken on, such as landscaping in front of the library, fire hall and garage, and more extensive clearing at dam sites and township parks, in an effort to keep the men busy.

Don Lloyd says arena didn't lose $13,000

Don Lloyd, chairman of the Haliburton Recreation Committee, told The Echo that a $13,000 loss figure for the Dysart Arena was not true.

Mr. Lloyd said that the figure would not be that high and that an auditors report was not yet completed. He pointed out that it is not unusual for an arena to lose money.

Mr. Lloyd, who also manages the municipally owned Haliburton Huskies Junior D Hockey Club, said that the Huskies had nothing to do with the deficit that there is at the arena. He noted that the team borrowed $1,000 from the municipality at the beginning of the last hockey season and although they have not paid it back, presently have about $500 in the bank.

The $13,000 loss figure was used by Councillor, Roy Brohm, at Dysart et al's last council meeting. At that time Deputy Reeve Harold Bannon agreed with the figure, despite the fact that Reeve Murray Fearney pointed out that the losses could not be calculated because an auditors report was not done.

The arena, which is municipally owned, is operated by an appointed recreation committee. Councillor Brohm last week said that the arena was mismanaged.

Smith says our economy is in trouble

Dr. Stuart Smith, Leader of the Ontario Liberal Party, told party partisans, last week in Lindsay, that the province is now into an election campaign that Ontario doesn't need and the people didn't want.

Dr. Smith said, "We are into a campaign that will cost you, the taxpayers, some $20 million".

"Ontario's economy is in serious trouble. Instead of fighting a $20 million election campaign, Ontario's legislators should be in the legislature, taking action to get our economy going again", he said.

Dr. Smith noted that the election has been called to benefit Davis government, "not the wage-earners and taxpayers of Ontario".

He pointed out that since 1972 the economy of Ontario has grown more slowly than the national average.

"Since 1968, personal incomes in Ontario have been growing at a slower rate than in any other Canadian province", he said.

He added that since 1970, Ontario's growth in capital spending has lagged behind the rest of Canada 103 percent, compared to 188 percent.

"For many years we enjoyed sound economic management under the leadership of men like Leslie Frost and John Roberts", Dr. Smith said. He pointed out that Ontario was the economic leader in Canada.

"Today we have record high and rising rates of unemployment. Our unemployment rate has now reached 7.4 percent", he said.

He pointed out that 132,000 "young people" are unemployed and another 200,000 are expected to seek work this year.

"We have not enjoyed the same sound economic management under Mr. Davis that we had under Mr. Frost and Mr. Roberts. Instead, we have been burdened with a string of record-breaking deficits which have increased the debt burden for every man, woman, and child in Ontario from $185 in 1970 to $840 today", Dr. Smith said.

He pointed out that interest alone on the provincial debt now costs almost $3 million a day. Dr. Smith said that drastic steps must be taken to get the economy back on course.

He said that a Liberal government will limit the increase in provincially controlled taxes, rates and fees to the same anti-inflation guidelines that control income. "No tax including property tax, no rate, and no fee within provincial jurisdiction will be allowed to increase faster than your income, under a Liberal government", Dr. Smith.

He noted that these tough controls will not be used to provide a break for the energy-wasters in the province and cannot be applied to oil prices set in foreign countries. He added that they will be able to hold the line on hydro increases for basic light and power needs to the increase in wages allowed by the anti-inflation board.

"Since the anti-inflation board was established in October, 1975, your wage increases have been limited to eight percent each year, but during that same period, the Davis government has raised your OHIP fees by 45 percent. They have raised the tuition fees at community colleges by 30 percent. They have raised the paid-up capital tax for corporations by 50 percent. GO Transit fares have jumped as much as 25 percent on some routes, and an average of 21 percent. And Hydro rates, even for basic light and power, were raised almost 30 percent in a single year", Dr. Smith said.

He claimed that under a Liberal government it won't be allowed to continue. "We're a free enterprise party. We know that businesses must expand if our economy is to grow. And we know that people will only start investing in business expansion when government starts taking a smaller piece of the pie", he said.

Dr. Smith questioned why government shouldn't do its share in getting the economy growing again? "Why shouldn't government have to make the same kinds of tough spending choices as you do when your income is controlled? Why should controls apply to the little guy, but not to big government? The excuses offered by Mr. Davis and company indicate that they still fail to recognize the seriousness of our economic problems", he said.

Dr. Smith said that a Liberal government will lead by example. "We'll take the tough steps that are necessary to create jobs and get the economy back on course for the little guy", he said.

Eakins says tourism a primary industry

Tourism should be recognized as a primary industry of Ontario and a trend since 1973 of American Tourists not coming to Ontario must be reversed, according to John Eakins, Liberal incumbent candidate for Victoria-Haliburton.

Mr. Eakins was speaking at the Liberal Party's nomination convention held last week in Lindsay. He was unopposed in his quest for renomination to represent the Liberal Party in the riding.

Mr. Eakins said that he is concerned about strengthening small rural communities.

Concerning the unemployment situation, Mr. Eakins said that he will continue attempting to find work for people.

Mr. Eakins said he will continue a program of keeping the people informed in the riding through such things as a weekly column which is published by the local newspapers.

He pointed out that over the year and a half that he has been the member for the riding he has established a constituency office in Lindsay and was planning to open an office in Haliburton but that has been postponed because of the election.

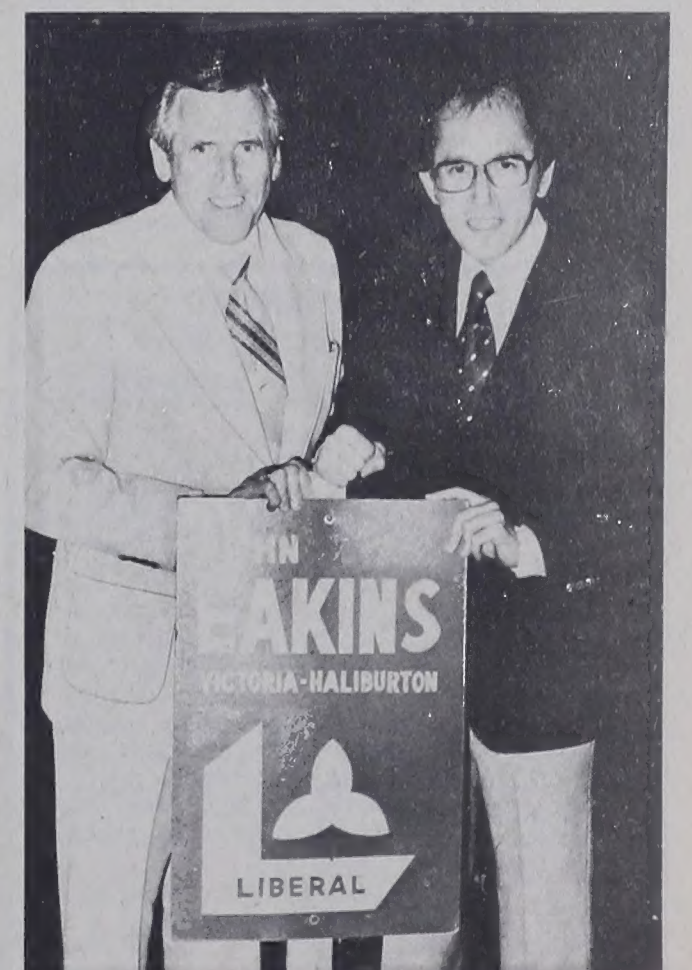

Mr. Eakins also spoke on what he would like to see for the small businessman and how management and financial help could strengthen the economy by creating jobs.

Jim Webster, Progressive Conservative candidate for Victoria-Haliburton, opened his campaign office on Highland St. last Wednesday to find Mrs. Launera Barry, R.R. 2, Haliburton, the first to step up to his door.

A $50 donation last week, by George Parozamin, has lifted the Dysart Arena Fund total to $15,080. The goal for the fund, which will be used to make improvements and repairs for the arena is $25,000. Donations may be sent to Box 382, Haliburton.

John Eakins gets a hand from Liberal leader, Dr. Stuart Smith, putting in the first Liberal sign for the June 9 election. Dr. Smith was in Lindsay last week for Mr. Eakins nomination. Mr. Eakins was the member of provincial parliament for Victoria-Haliburton when parliament was dissolved.

From the Chamber by Bob Stinson

We just returned from the Ontario Chamber of Commerce Convention in Toronto, and with very exciting news. The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, along with six other worthy recipients, received a Presidents Award at an Awards Luncheon on Monday. The Award was "based on the Chambers informative and provocative series of columns in the local newspaper consistently representing the business viewpoints on community issues". We were certainly extremely proud to accept this award and the considerable prestige that goes with it on behalf of the Haliburton Chamber.

The other Chambers winning awards were the St. Isidore Chamber of Commerce, the Brantford Regional Chamber of Commerce, the Hamilton and District Chamber, the Orangeville and District Chamber, the Guelph Chamber and the Niagara Falls Chamber of Commerce. Most remarkable was the St. Isidore Chamber which had provided their community of less than 1,000 people with a $60,000. medical clinic without any recourse to government assistance. They raised the necessary money, built the clinic and had it staffed by two doctors all within eight months. Brantford received their award for their business education program that they initiated into their school system. Hamilton won an award for their extremely professional Panorama magazine which they publish once a month. Orangeville received their award for an industrial trade exhibition they ran and Guelph received theirs for a downtown action plan which is expected to create a rebirth for their city. Niagara Falls received their award for organizing an international photo contest in co-operation with Kodak Canada, publicizing the Honeymoon City. As you can see we were in the company of some very active and ambitious Chambers.

The Convention was very rewarding also in that there was many interesting and informative discussions throughout the two and a half days. The topic '77 program on Monday was particularly interesting. This took up the better part of the day, and involved discussions of resolutions submitted by Chambers throughout Ontario that they wished the Ontario Chamber to take action on. Each resolution contained not only a description of the issue, but a recommended action. We were pleased to work along with Arnold Warden, President of the Bancroft Chamber, on three issues of local significance. The Ontario Chamber will be submitting our recommendations regarding the administration of water lots and the price policies of provincial parks to the Ministry of Natural Resources. The third issue regarding the Ministry of Industry and Tourism present administration of travel areas was referred to the executive committee for further study. This means basically that those present agreed with our submission but felt that it was complex enough that it required more input before a recommended action could be established.

At the Tuesday luncheon we were honoured to have as guest speakers both Premier Bill Davis and the Hon. Darcy McKeough. There was approximately twenty minutes allowed for questions and answers and we managed to squeeze a question in regarding Provincial Parks Policy. In spite of the fact that the Hon. Frank Miller, the new minister of Natural Resources, had asked that the price structure of Provincial Parks be raised immediately, Mr. Davis said there will be no charge for this season since the budget had already been set down for this year. We suggested that his reply was "extremely disappointing".

Two very real concerns dominated the conversations throughout the sessions at the convention. Uppermost was the possibility of Quebec separation and what we could or should do to avoid it. It was interesting to note that this year's President of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, Cam Denise, is a French Canadian and the President of the Quebec Chamber of Commerce is an Anglo-Saxon. The other major concern is our loss of our competitive edge with the United States and other countries. Even while the convention was in progress, two more Canadian subsidiaries of American companies were closed down in Ontario. It was generally agreed it was going to take a very real effort by not only governments but every individual in Canada to reverse this trend.

For over a month we have been watching Highlands Plumbing and Heating work towards the completion of their new store in Minden. This weekend is their grand opening of the new showroom on Main Street, Minden. It bears very little resemblance to the old Welch General Store.

With this upcoming long weekend it signifies the opening of another summer season. Many of our members still do not have a good supply of their brochures in our Minden office.

News from Extendicare

Mr. Plewman will be a hard man to follow. His work has been delightful and dedicated. We residents are at this time of year anxious to get out and do things outside, such as planting seed and transplanting plants. Our aim in this respect is now and then to offer the kitchen some fresh produce of our own growing, not enough to supply a meal, but just a token quantity. We are hopeful of filling our various flower beds with lots of colourful bloom in a month or maybe more. Already, on our mobile planters, we have abundant Dahlias, Marigolds, Petunias, and Balsams, ready to set out, weather permitting, and, of course, the danger of frost.

Some of our activity is in the form of games such as carpet bowling, lawn darts and soon, I hope, shuffleboard. We do not know the rules of scoring in these games, but we play them anyway. Any of our readers could help here, maybe by sending in the rules for these games if they have them and the time it may take. Since Extendicare opened there has been a bad physical hazard with that steep rock precipice falling off to the creek gully. We can be very thankful now that they fenced that problem off. We couldn't fall over now if we wanted to. It is a splendid fence of meshed wire, 2 inch galvanized iron cemented in posts and the iron pipes running lengthwise along the top.

A very fitting Mother's Day gesture occurred here on Mother's Day when a corsage for each month here was donated by the Sunday School of Lakeside Baptist Church. They deserved them. Monday afternoon several ladies - Mrs. Myrtle Pritchard, Mrs. Flora Walling, Mrs. Hazel Welch, Mrs. Hazel Parish and Mrs. Mary Currah, met in the craft room to spend a couple of hours transplanting trays of Marigolds, Petunias and Zinnias to be ready later to plant in our gardens. These ladies can do a lot of work in a short time.

We are informed that Mr. Plewman has left for Toronto to see a specialist about his vision. We all wish him total success.

Some of you may have noted the energetic building going on around here. If so, it is Phil Finlay building the shuffleboard, the barbecue with rotisserie and finally, the planters for flowers that wheelchair residents can use. And now the games will really start. It would be a shame that with all this equipment the senior citizens of Haliburton Village do not take advantage of our invitation to them, to share the use with us. And now folks, hold your horses for a minute, because I am told a "Rodeo" is coming to Extendicare. Full particulars will be given in later issues.

Our devotional period is held each Friday morning at 10 a.m. Our spiritual leader for this morning's service was the Rev. Don Nicholson, Pastor of Haliburton United Church. These sessions of inspiration are much appreciated.

On and after May 20 we will be selling many of our plants should any desire them.

To understand Canada today - and, Lord knows, we could all benefit from more understanding - it's important to have the proper historical perspective. Canada, you see, was founded with the intent that, one day, she would become a great, independent nation. The early Europeans came to pillage our furs and fish.

Timber and minerals have more significance than furs and fish today. But we are still a colony. Granted, we're an above-average colony because of our rich resource deposits. But we're a colony nonetheless. Colonialism, after all, isn't simply a condition where one country politically dominates another. Colonialism is, primarily, a state of mind.

Colonies can be identified by certain features. A colony, for instance, exports basic resources and imports manufactured goods. Domestically-produced goods, in fact, are considered inferior to imports. The education system of a colony is geared to training of bankers, bureaucrats, accountants, or salesmen - rather than skilled production tradesmen. And a substantial portion of the nation's Gross National Product is created through trade.

Canada is a living example of that definition. Our resources are stripped away to be processed abroad. Our branch plants do little more

Board salary negotiations moving along very well

The salary negotiating committee of the Haliburton County Board of Education is "moving along very well with the elementary teachers", according to Len Salvatori, trustee for Dysart et al who heads the committee.

Talks with the secondary school teachers have established a good working understanding, Mr. Salvatori said, but "there's a lot of things in there about salaries and time tables at the schools that has been discouraging to the committee."

The teachers "know where we stand" Mr. Salvatori told the Board at the May 10 meeting, and explained the enrolment, pupil teacher ratio and number of periods in the school day were being discussed.

Mr. Salvatori noted that he had told the secondary school teachers that if they wanted 24 in the classroom, they "have to give us seven periods" so that "we can work it around to give a better class size."

With respect to salaries, Mr. Salvatori noted that the Anti-Inflation Board has the final say, and it's a very tough thing when there's nothing to give."

Robert Penfold is the chief negotiator for the secondary school teachers. Talks will continue with both secondary and elementary teaching staff, and it is hoped that they will be finished by the end of June, Mr. Salvatori said.

Lindsay man named sheriff

John Boyd, a Lindsay businessman and clerk of small claims court has been named Sheriff of Victoria and Haliburton Counties.

At the swearing in ceremonies last week County Court Judge Lloyd Wood, who presided over the formal ceremony said Mr. Boyd was actually taking five oaths, that of Sheriff, Surrogate Court Registrar, Local Registrar of the Ontario Supreme Court, County Clerk and the oath of allegiance to the Queen.

Fire danger is in high hazard range

Weather conditions in the Algonquin Region, along with the lack of rain so far this season, are keeping forested areas in the extreme hazard range.

Forest fires start readily and spread quickly under these conditions presenting control problems for fire fighters.

A combination of high temperatures, high winds and low humidities forecast for this week add further to the current danger.

Residents and visitors are requested to take all precautions with fire in any form. Don't leave fires unattended and ensure they are dead out before leaving.

Last year, in Algonquin Region, there were a total of 285 forest fires for the entire season. Since April 1, 1977, the 224 fires to date are rapidly approaching the total number for all of 1976. With almost six months remaining in the current fire season, more records may fall.

Algonquin Region is composed of the Districts of Parry Sound, Bracebridge, Minden, Bancroft, Algonquin Park and Pembroke.

Stanhope Council passes long awaited bylaw

Stanhope council last Wednesday in an unanimous decision passed the long-awaited restricted area bylaw that zones existing land uses and designates all residential properties either rural residential or shoreline residential, both of which permit year round use of either type of Stanhope home.

The bylaw is not expected to meet with provincial approval. A letter from the Ministry of Housing to the planners, Totten, Sims and Hubicki who have been preparing the bylaw, said that Housing felt their position on seasonal residential zoning had been "made abundantly clear" and that the municipality had chosen to ignore Housing suggestions.

The Stanhope bylaw does not include the seasonal residential clause that the Ministry of Housing would like to see in areas such as Haliburton county.

Stanhope councillor noted the case of Tiny Township, which tried to process a bylaw without the seasonal clause and was rejected.

He suggested that it was time "to go all out" in bringing the issue to a head, saying that since Stanhope property owners got what they wanted in the shoreline residential wording of the bylaw, that they should support the bylaw to the point of getting the Ontario Federation of Cottagers' Associations to act in this instance and force the province to examine its policy more closely.

Shoreline residential is a term that was adopted in Stanhope following a strong objection to the seasonal residential clause made by township property owners.

The seasonal term relegated some to the position of "second class citizens" who could not demand year round municipal services although they paid full assessments, property owners' association representatives claimed.

Following approval given to the bylaw Wednesday by Stanhope council, the bylaw is to be printed and circulated to every property owner in the township and abutting the township. Objections will be heard by the Ontario Municipal Board which must grant final approval before the bylaw can go into effect.

The bylaw is to be circulated on June 26.

Premier attending reception

The Victoria-Haliburton Progressive Conservative Association are going all out to hold a Gala Reception in Lindsay, this Friday evening May 20th, to give the people the opportunity to meet Premier Bill Davis and Victoria-Haliburton Progressive Conservative candidate, Jim Weir.

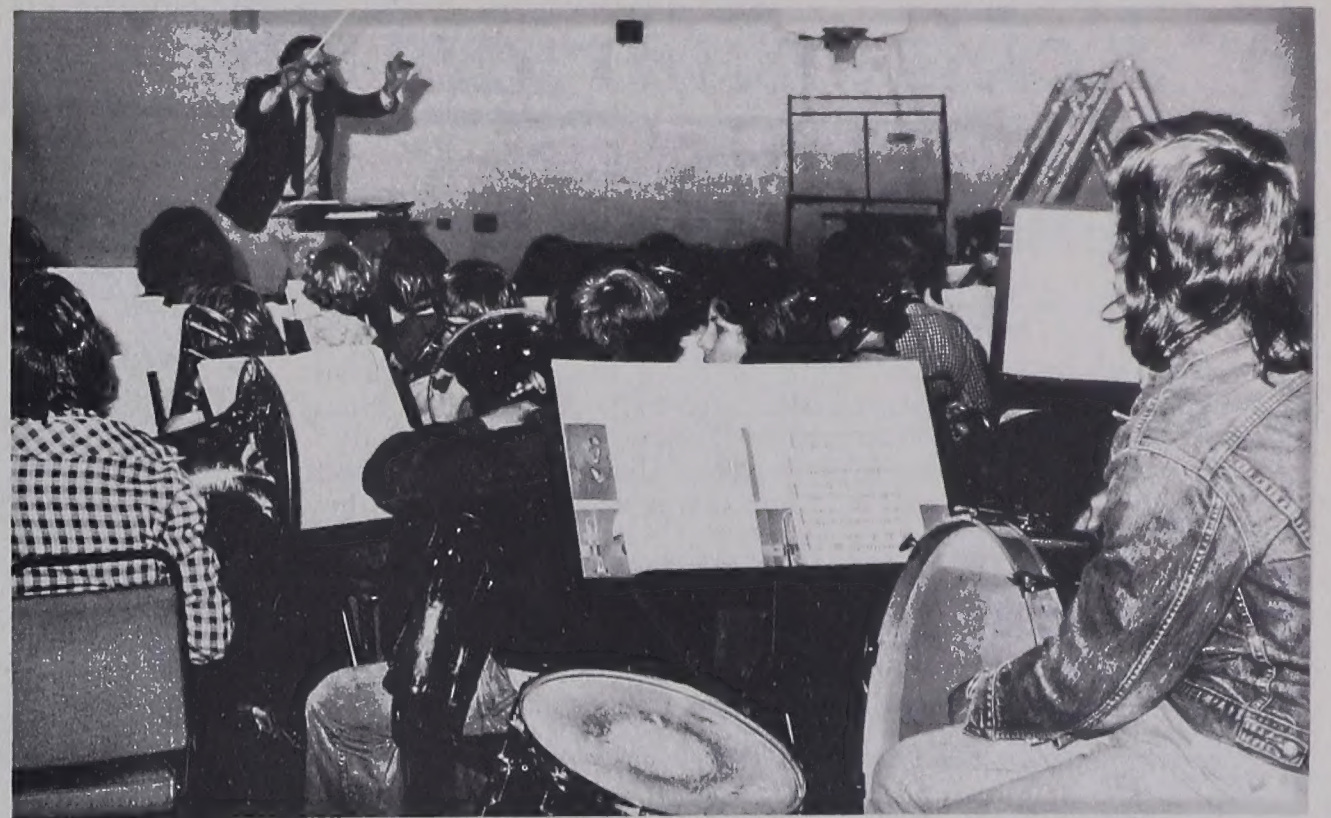

The Gala Reception which will be held at the Lindsay Collegiate and Vocational Institute is from 7:00 p.m. until 9:00 p.m. with the main attraction being the Premier of Ontario, Bill Davis.

The Conservatives are going to say it with music with three Lindsay bands to supply the music to stir the hearts of everyone.

In attendance will be the Lindsay Kinsmen Band, Kawartha Cavaliers and the Lindsay Pipe and Drum Band.

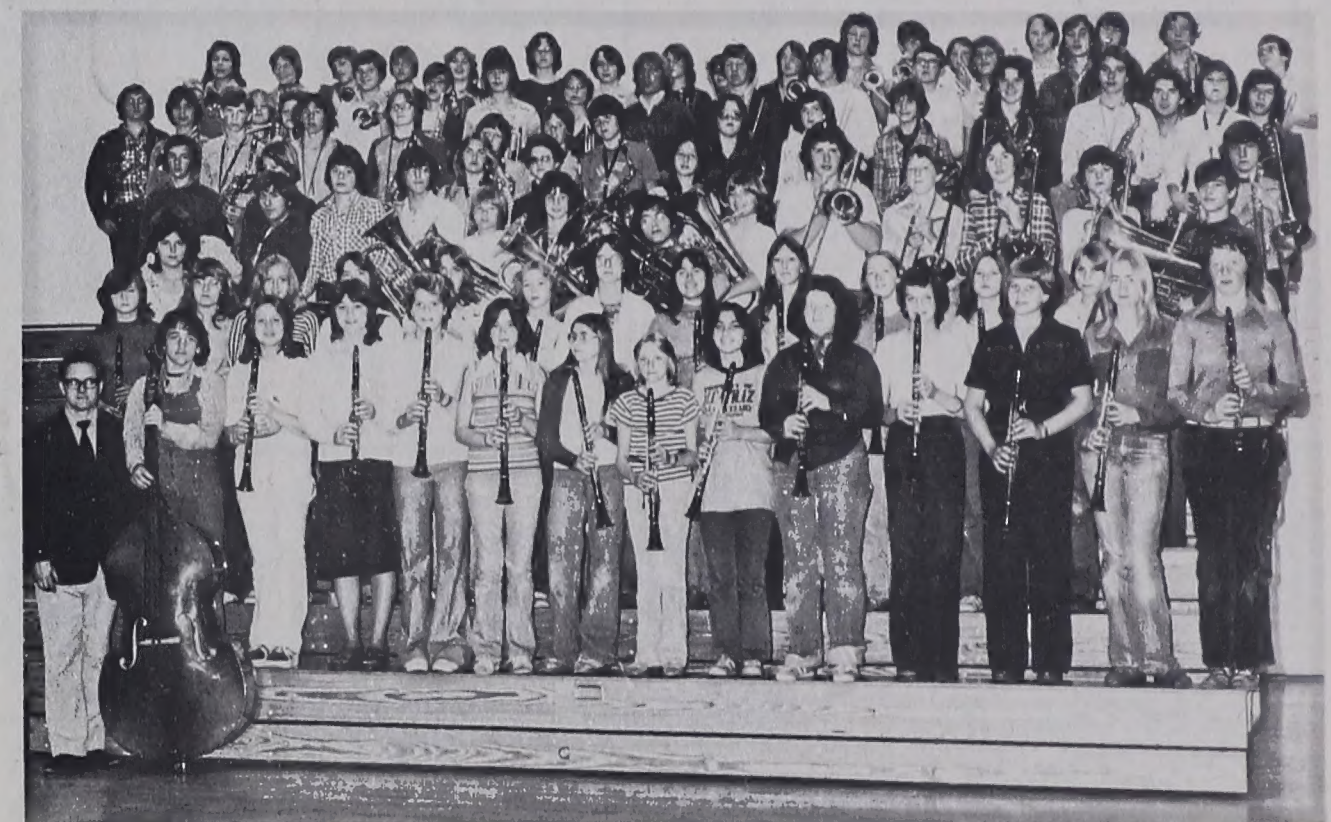

Everyone is welcome and as an added feature there will be a beef barbecue and soft drinks. No charge.

Premier Davis is the second party leader to visit the riding since the election was called. Liberal leader Dr. Stuart Smith was in Lindsay last week.

"A one and a two and a..." The Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School was one of the many great acts at the school's activity night held last week. The band, with about 100 members has been rehearsing and playing for some time and were all set for the big night. The activity night featured a number of performances.

The Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School Band has spent many hours practising and had the opportunity to show what they learned at the school's activity night held last week. The band, with about 100 members, is noted for being one of the largest in the area.

Family life explained to board of education

Family Life was explained to the Haliburton County board of Education, May 10, when department head, Rosemary Kennedy, spoke to the trustees about the program at the secondary school that takes students from the basics of sewing and cooking through to being able to make considered decisions on everything from quality of foods to quality of relationships.

"I feel that family studies, especially family and child, should be compulsory", Mrs. Kennedy told the Board.

"I come from the Home Economics era when it was stewing and stitching, and I'm glad to see that there's been a big change", board chairman, Richard Poole, noted in his thanks to Mrs. Kennedy for a presentation that sparked a good deal of interest and discussion among trustees.

Included in the remarks was admissions such as "women's liberation has been a freedom for women to kill themselves working in a majority of instances", voiced by director of the board, Douglas Hodgson, when the role of women and men in the care of the home was brought under question.

Mrs. Kennedy expressed her concern that there were not many boys who were willing to take the Family Life courses, which centre in the upper grades on human relationships and responsible ways of choosing lifestyles. "In a subject that deals with a family, how can you have just girls", she asked, explaining that the courses as they stand don't really cater only to girls and that "it must be tradition" that keeps the boys away.

Mr. Hodgson's statement and others like it, for and against some of the aspects of the program, were an indication of the importance and interest in the course that centres on skills necessary for living, choosing a mate, raising children and buying and running a home.

All these are skills, board members agreed, that have to be reflected upon and learned.

Mrs. Kennedy described one experiment designed to give some idea to students of the responsibilities of parenthood. She explained that pairs of students were given charge of one raw egg for a week. They had to take care of it at all times, and make sure someone was with it if they couldn't be. By the end of the week, Mrs. Kennedy said some were feeling a great deal of pressure from caring for this relatively simple object.

Concepts and values are also dealt with by the program, and Mrs. Kennedy noted that while she never forced her own values or middle class values on the students, she was often called on to be honest and open about her own decisions and life in a variety of areas. The situation of trust and open discussion is considered invaluable in helping students learn how to make their own decisions.

The main stress of the program, that reaches into sociology, psychology, anthropology and history by grade 13, is on the importance of the family as a unit.

Unemployment is part of local NDP platform

Emphasis on unemployment and natural resources control to protect jobs was the direction taken in the nomination speech of Fred McLaughlin, Victoria-Haliburton NDP candidate in Lindsay, May 5.

This follows the province-wide NDP strategy emphasizing human and natural resources.

Mr. McLaughlin said a New Democratic government would create jobs by returning money to the consumer's pocket through tax concessions. "This additional money in the hand of the consumer would mean more purchasing power which would stimulate the industrial sector, creating more jobs," he explained.

He referred to the unemployment situation as a "provincial disgrace" adding ing he could see no hope for the future prospects of Ontario with the present government since Darcy McKeough, treasurer of Ontario, released his budget and a paper claiming full employment in Ontario means 200,000 persons out of work.

The Ontario Budget 1977 under the job creation section states: "Budget Paper A suggests that the full-employment target for Ontario appropriate to the 1970's is 5.3 per cent, up from 3.0 per cent some years ago."

The paper says that the increased percentage of unemployment is acceptable because of an expected 2.9 per cent increase in the labour force until 1980. Two major factors were cited an increase in the female labour force triple that of the male labour force and increases in the youth labour force. However, the budget report acknowledges that unemployment is currently more than six per cent.

Mr. McLaughlin said this economic stagnation has come about through government policy.

He also said the NDP would create a strong secondary industrial complex. He recalled reading a recent economic analysis of the Canadian economy which claimed that the industrial system has deteriorated since the early 50's.

"When I read parts of this report I was disgusted because a large part of industrial development takes place in Ontario and the Conservative governments, which has been in power, has done nothing to safeguard future jobs for our people," he said.

"We can always pay people not to work," he continued, "but I believe that a job is more than a pay cheque; it is part of a person's life. It is a basic need for every individual... to be productive in a society."

Stanhope passes first step for official plan

Stanhope Council May 11th moved an approval of "the first leg of an official plan", an interim planning policy with the condition that such a policy would allow subdivisions in rural areas.

Council heard a report of the April 26 meeting between the Ministry of Housing and the Haliburton County planning committee, and voted in favour of the suggestion to work towards a county-wide agreement on a planning policy.

Reeve Sinclair Nesbitt suggested that if the majority of townships in the county are able to agree on a policy, "under the two-thirds vote" in county council, that "the other should be forced to go along" for the best of the county as a whole.

"The only way the policy would be really good would be if the whole county came in and we began working together," Mr. Nesbitt noted.

Dysart et al, which has an official plan, is in a questionable position with respect to their involvement and financial contribution towards the planning policy, according to the discussion in Stanhope council. Mr.

Nesbitt said that Dysart expressed an interest in helping and "would benefit from having neighbours planned also".

Council asked developer, Larry VanLieshout, that some condition be put upon the sale of the lots to ensure that homes were constructed within a reasonable amount of time. "It's only good to the municipality if homes are built" Reeve Sinclair Nesbitt noted "since it will increase the assessment for the township".

Bouncing like a ball

A request by a Toronto couple to bring their foster family to Haliburton County and more particularly, to Dysart et al, is being bounced around like a rubber ball by Dysart council.

Some time back Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gervais approached both the Board of Education and the Municipality with the idea that they would bring their "family" of 13 children to the area.

Since that time the Board of Education has closed the matter saying it doesn't have a legal position. The Municipality, on the other hand, appears to be doing all it can to keep the Gervais' out.

Even though the board has no legal grounds to keep the Gervais' children out of the school system (10 of the children are foster children) it is school related concerns that the municipality is using as their reasons at this time.

The municipality, in particular, Reeve Murray Fearrey, is concerned about school related matters.

"In my opinion there is a place in the community for group homes but the type of home and child must be related to the type of children in our school system", Reeve Fearrey said to The Echo two weeks ago.

At that time he also said that children cannot be put indiscriminantly into the school system without some ratio being established and that perhaps experts could set the ratio by doing a study on the area.

The ratio certainly can pose a problem for the school system, but the school board has no built-in safeguards it seems, to stop this type of influx of students.

We can see the problems created by group homes and we can see that Haliburton County, because of its abundant space and recreational facilities, is an ideal location for these types of homes. We can also see the necessity of limiting and controlling them in the area.

What we can't see is how much longer the municipality can stall the Gervais' without coming up with a concrete reason.

Service to others

It happened in a small town in the Maritimes, in the year 1961. It was late in October. The autumn was at its peak and the weather had become very damp and cold because of much rain. The sounds of music faded. The radio announcer's voice broke in -

"A four year old boy is missing in the woods near Dunkin. Volunteers are urgently needed. Meet at the fire hall".

It was getting dark already. The Captain began at once to call up his soldiers, men and women, and soon a large group of Salvationists arrived at the fire hall to report for duty. The women began at once making sandwiches and coffee, while the men immediately joined the search parties and headed for the woods nearby.

The search continued for three days and nights. Hope of finding the child alive was almost gone when shouts of joy rang from the woods - "He's alive". Soon the little boy was brought to the roadside and rushed off to hospital.

Upon examination the doctor said, "It's a miracle how he survived. He'll be okay in a few days".

The continued efforts of people working together for a cause was richly rewarded. Help the Salvation Army continue "service to others" with your gift to the Red Shield campaign.

Ron Curry honored

In every community there are generally only a few who are willing to give a great deal of their time and effort to make it a better place to live.

Most people who work for the betterment of the community are seldom recognized for that fact.

Ronald J. Curry has spent many years working in Haliburton County, the Municipality of Dysart et al and Haliburton Village.

Mr. Curry was honoured for part of the work he has done. Sir Sanford Fleming College recognized him for the contribution he has made to the school.

To Mr. Curry, The Echo offers its congratulations on being the third person to be given an honorary degree from the college.

Who will ever forget the Legion Drumhead Service which was held at Haliburton on September 12th, 1954. It was a first for Haliburton with many various Legion branches in attendance from the Zone. The parade featured many bands and the above photo shows the parade coming down the main street led by the Haliburton Citizens Band with it's leader the late Carl Hussey. The local band was disbanded several years ago. Our thanks to Gordon Griffin of Haliburton, who was a member of the band for submitting this photo.

Haliburton Highlights

BY CREIGHTON FEIR

LaRue Motor Sales Ltd. have just recently moved into their new location across from Haliburton Lumber and now have a beautiful garage and showroom. Their biggest problem up to this time has been putting in fill in front and at the back of their garage. When their parking lot is completed it will give them the opportunity to have more room to display their new cars.

Work is still progressing in the interior of the former LaRue Motors building, on the main street in Haliburton, and when finished the new quarters will be occupied by Haliburton Red & White. When completed this will give Haliburton a large supermarket with plenty of room for the owners to display their food products and the customers will have plenty of room to move around.

At this time you have the opportunity to support your local Association for the Mentally Retarded, by donating to with your contribution to the Flowers of Hope. The yellow envelopes have been mailed with seeds enclosed, so please send back your donation in the envelope supplied. Many of our local citizens are working hard for this most worthy cause and the Haliburton and District Association for the Mentally Retarded remind you that the money received will all be used in the local area. Your donation helps with prevention, early childhood training, education, community residential arrangements, workshops, job training, employment in industry, recreation, leisure time activities, parent support and community awareness. If you have not already sent in your contribution, then do so right away.

The Bank of Montreal, in Haliburton, will be holding their Open House tonight, Wednesday, May 18, from 6 to 8 p.m. The staff at the Bank of Montreal invite you to visit their branch on the Main Street in Haliburton on this evening, for coffee and donuts. This is the night that the staff will all be on hand to answer any questions related to banking matters.

Our good friend, Charles Plewman, who has been writing the News from Extensicare column for The Echo, for some time now, has been forced to give it up, at least for the present. Charlie's vision has been bad for some time and he has been to see a specialist and they will decide on whether they should operate.

We wish Charlie, who will be 88 come next January, the best of luck and hope that his eyesight may be restored in the very near future. Dr. O.W. Anderson will be writing the column while Charlie is away.

Newbatt's Furniture and Appliances, on Oak Street in Haliburton, has opened up a Bath and Gift Boutique in their store. The Grand Opening, which started on May 12th, will continue on through until Saturday, May 21st.

Our congratulations to Ronald J. Curry, a well-known Haliburton Village resident, who has become the third person in the 10 year history of Sir Sanford Fleming College to receive an honorary degree. Ron received his award at the convocation ceremonies, in Lindsay, on May 14th.

Editor's notebook

BY JIM BADGLEY

Wren Blair, formerly of Haliburton Hockey Haven fame in this area, and more recently one of the major shareholders in the PineStone Inn, has come back to Haliburton for the summer with a hockey championship under his belt.

The Saginaw Gears, of the International Hockey League, won the playoff championship this year, their third time in the finals. Mr. Blair is the owner of the Gears.

This year the Gears were successful all the way around. They finished first in their division and had more points than any team in either of the two divisions.

They went on to down Muskegon in seven games in the north divisions semi-finals. The club then downed Kalamazoo in five games to win their division.

From there it was a seven game series with Toledo with the Gears coming up with a 5-0 win in the finals right in Saginaw. Wren explained that the final game was closer than that though with the Gears only up 1-0 half way through the third period before coming up with the four insurance markers.

On the ice, since they started in 1972, the Gears have been very successful, making it to the finals three times and coming up with the one championship.

Wren said that the Gears were also successful at the box office, drawing an average of just under 5,000 people per game for the season and selling out every game during the playoffs. The arena's capacity is 5,400.

The club's attendance figure was second best in the nine team loop. Wren pointed out that the IHL has become one of the more successful minor professional leagues in North America.

As others see it

Jim Badgley, News Editor,
Haliburton County Echo,
Haliburton, Ontario.

Dear Mr. Badgley:

This letter is in regard to your article in the May 11th, 1977 issue of The Echo, in which it appears that my vote in the school levy apportionment issue was one that adversely affected the Township of Glamorgan. In this respect the article may be partially correct - but only to the point where the short term applies.

It has always been my point of view that all municipal officials, whether elected or appointed, have a responsibility to their ratepayers to consider the long term effects of any decision against the short term benefits. What may appear to be very beneficial at the time, could turn out to be a long term disadvantage over a period of time. For example: if your budget calls for a Volkswagen, a $20,000 rebate on a new Rolls Royce today isn't much use if you can't afford the operating costs next week and are prohibited from trading it in.

For me to vote in the affirmative to accept in principle, for education apportionment purposes, market value assessment figures which at this time are neither known nor proven, would, I feel, not be in the long term interests of the ratepayers of the Township of Glamorgan. We all know that the new program of assessment may be subject to inequalities and at this time we do not know to what degree, if any, these figures may prove unacceptable to some of the municipalities in the County or to individual ratepayers. If these figures are such that the Township of Glamorgan appears to be greatly over-assessed compared to other municipalities, then the long range disadvantages could soon wipe out any gain made in the 1977 education levy. Of course, I admit that these new figures could also be appealed, but the credibility of such an appeal, by the Township of Glamorgan, would have been compromised by an affirmative vote in the first instance. It would be clear to me that the officials of The Ontario Municipal Board would naturally take the view that "Glamorgan was willing to accept this method of apportionment when it appeared to be to its advantage, but now it wants to change the rules of the game". However, due to the fact that we have not at this time accepted this method, any further appeal from us is free of all compromises and therefore such an appeal could be dealt with on its own merits.

In ending, I would like to state that it would have been quite easy to vote to accept the proposed apportionment and escape any criticism, but should time prove me right or wrong, I voted in the way I felt was the most beneficial to this Municipality.

Elva V. Bates, A.M.C.T.,
Clerk-Treasurer.

Dear Sir:

We would like to express, through your paper, our admiration and thanks to the students, teachers and others responsible for the fine performance of music, singing and gymnastics at the Haliburton Senior Elementary School, on May 11. A great deal of effort, time and patience went into this evening of activities.

We are very fortunate to live in a community where our children benefit from such excellent teachers and a fine school -- another good reason for living in Haliburton.

Sincerely,

Joe & Jean Iles.

Dear Mr. Editor:

Re: The High School Glee Club's Production "Ruddigore".

At last - a review of the presentation worthy of the occasion. Bless you Susan McLaughlin; and the past productions have been just as exhilarating. I look forward from year to year to the First Nights and never cease to be amazed at the costumes, sets and deliveries put forth for our approval. And, to think that Mr. Gliddon, Mr. Music Man himself, is anchored to the piano for two to three hours, but all comes across to us so smoothly.

I would also like to mention this year's Grade Twelve Play which I attended out of a certain sense of duty and ended up spending one of my most enjoyable evenings this winter. I am a Royal Alexandra Theatre subscriber.

I wonder if the school busses could not be run in specified areas for specific evenings so that more parents and friends could see these talented students. I would also like to suggest that the advance publicity be released a week earlier so that our cottage people could plan a worthwhile and entertaining evening in Town.

I will be truly happy when I see the Director and his Board, the Reeves and their Councilors, the County Warden and County Council in attendance. A Green Room? Why not? The teachers and students involved deserve the recognition.

This and That

BY JENNIFER WOODS

Life is never dull with my mother around. She is always on the go and she always has something different up her sleeve.

When she retires in ten years and hopefully comes to the Haliburton area to live, I can assure you the place will never be the same.

One surprise she recently led us to were two end tables she had made herself and she is at this time making all the kitchen cupboard for her cottage - only 16 of them! So you can imagine when she brought out this big box and said she had bought "something" for us I could hardly guess what it was. We did try to figure out what was in this box for half an hour, but there was "no way" we could guess.

So finally we had to open it up and to our great surprise and happiness there gleamed an Ice Cream Freezer for making our own homemade ice cream. What a wonderful gift and so practical as my husband can easily eat ice cream for breakfast, lunch and supper. Well thanks Mom you have certainly given us a gift that has become a real conversation piece.

I realize that most of you do not have ice cream freezers, but I thought you might like to read some recipes and maybe even buy one for yourselves. We have a wedding coming up in our family and I was thinking that it would make a real interesting gift.

VANILLA ICE CREAM [Basic Recipe]

- 2 cups milk
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 4 cups light or table cream
- 4 tablespoons vanilla

Scald milk. Add the sugar and salt to the milk and stir until both are thoroughly dissolved. Add the cream. Stir in the vanilla. Cool. Turn into freezer and churn. Makes 2 quarts. To make many varied recipes just add one cup of fruit per quart. You may think the four cups of cream are expensive but ice cream is expensive enough itself and it is really worth that special flavour you get from your own homemade ice cream.

I would like to say a special thankyou to my mother for buying an Electric ice cream churner, that modern convenience is helping us get back to "old fashioned basics"

Guide and Brownie news

The Haliburton Guides and Brownies held a successful Walkathon, Saturday, April 30, in which 50 walkers participated. The ten mile route went from Haliburton village to Donald, and back.

Refreshments were supplied by the Parent Committee at check points along the route and lunch was served at the Haliburton United Church upon completion.

Radio controlled mobile checkpoints were supplied by the Haliburton Area Radio Club.

We would like to thank Ron Grant, Eva Prior, John Briggs, Miles Roberts, Owen Vaughan, Reg Brooks, Ed Fajar and Ev Brooks who manned the radios, and the Parent Committee who organized the event and served the lunch.

Central Area, Woodland Division Highland District and the Kinsmen have all graciously donated funds toward the cost of the trip to Cape Breton for our two representatives going to the International Camp in July.

The parents of the girls have made up the difference. Trip funds had to be paid in advance by March 31, 1977. The total cost per girl, to attend this camp, is $300.

The Parent Committee felt that they also would like to contribute. A small portion of Walkathon funds will be donated to the girls and the balance will be turned back into Brownie Packs and Guide Company funds.

These funds purchase badges, equipment, supplies, which the girls earn and use throughout the year.

United Church Women hold district rally recently

"Faith can do anything" was the theme for a Rally of some 45 United Church Women of Region 4 in Baddow United Church on May 4. Those attending were from Baddow, Burnt River, Cobocok, Kinnmount, Norland and Victoria road.

Warm words of welcome were extended by Mrs. R. Puterbaugh, Region Chairman and Mrs. O. Wells, Baddow U.C.W. president.

The day was off to a fine start as Mrs. K.J. Crawford and Mrs. Grace Sisson led in Devotions, calling us to worship in the words, "Let us run with FAITH THE RACE THAT IS SET BEFORE US". In her timely remarks Mrs. Sisson reminded that "all things work together for good to them that love God".

Elections resulted as follows: Region Chairman - Mrs. Gerald Bartley, Norland; Vice-Chairman - Mrs. Alan Brown, Kinnmount; Secretary - Mrs. Jane Dettman, Kinnmount.

Norland U.C.W. extended an invitation for the 1978 Rally.

Greetings were brought by Presbyterian President, Mrs. Gordon Gilson and other Presbyterian officers who were present. U.C.W. were urged to support the Bursary Fund of our Church which is able to help many who are training for leadership in the Church; the Anduhyon House, Toronto, a home for Indian girls until they become established in the city. Remember to send parcels to Dr. George Burgess in Angola. A note of Christian encouragement could be sent to: Peace People Movement, B. Upper Cres., Belfast 7, Northern Ireland.

Dates to remember were announced: The School for U.C.W., September 9 - 11 at Quin-Mo-Lac Camp with the theme "Understanding our Faith" and a "Festival of Faith" on October 21, 22 at Cambridge St. U.C., Lindsay.

Mrs. O. Wells led in joyous singing and was followed by a report of the 1976 School for U.C.W. given by Mrs. G. Bartley. Mrs. Bartley said that the speaker at the school had admonished "Keep your faith simple". Our prayer might well be "Lord, make me simple and simply Thine". In closing she said "Let us always remember how rich we are in this land".

A Smorgasbord Luncheon, prepared by the Baddow U.C.W. was greatly enjoyed.

The afternoon session opened with a very pleasing solo, "Holding Thy Hand" by Mrs. M. Nevinson of Norland, accompanied by Mrs. Ethel Hanson.

The "In Memoriam" Service for those who had passed on during the year, conducted by Miss Vina Neale, was most meaningful.

Burnt River U.C.W. received and dedicated the Offering.

Mrs. Jack Jewell, of Lindsay, who has made two visits to the Holy Land, was the guest speaker. She spoke of these trips as a spiritual fulfillment and a deepening of one's faith. Her slides were very lovely and organized to show the places of the birth, ministry and crucifixion of Jesus Christ. Her closing remark was very significant, "What you are is God's gift to you; what you make of yourself is your gift to God". The Benediction, pronounced by the Rev. K.J. Crawford, brought a very worthwhile day to a close.

"PHILOSOPHIZE"

My son came to me with a problem And asked what should be done, I did not give him the answer he sought I said "philosophize, my son."

He said, "I've heard you say that before So I'm familiar with the name, But could you please explain to me Just what you mean again?"

I said, "that simply means The answer isn't always cut and dried, Sometimes we search and search until Every avenue we've tried."

"To put it still more clearly One really must endure, In time the problem you now have Will itself produce a cure."

He looked at me a good long while Then slowly nodded his head, I think he's got the idea now All he needed was to be led.

Ground Beef Labelling

Are you puzzled by the new ground beef labelling? Relax, it's much simpler than the old method.

Regular, medium or lean ground beef are the three terms currently used. If you have a diet sheet that recommends "ground round", then you should select lean ground beef. Doctors and dietitians are aware of the new terms, but older diet sheets may show the former terms.

Lean ground beef must not exceed 17% fat.

Medium ground beef must not exceed 23% fat.

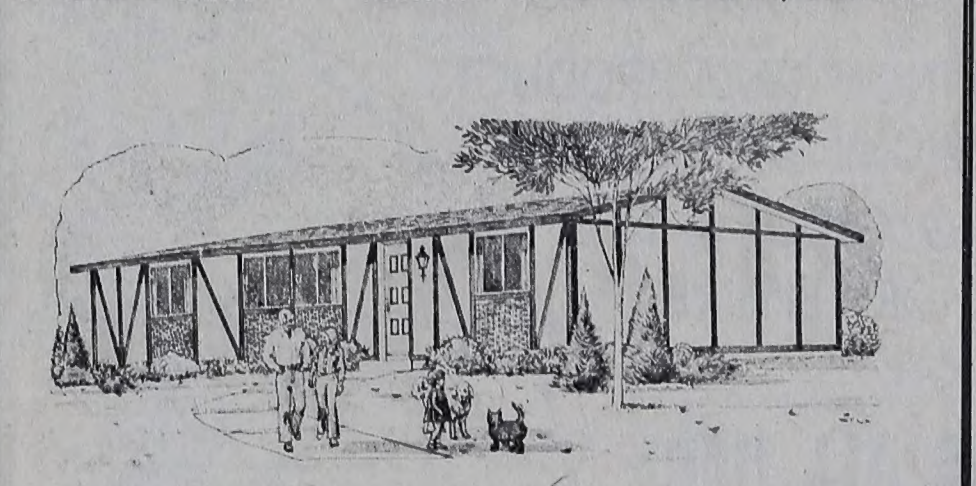

Regular ground beef must not exceed 30% fat.

These are Canadian regulations, no matter where you buy your ground beef.

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

Gail is a pretty 12-year-old with dark hair, and brown eyes. Her personality matches her engaging smile.

French in descent, she is English speaking. She is in excellent health and enjoys sports with favorites being swimming, softball and gymnastics. She is a camping enthusiast.

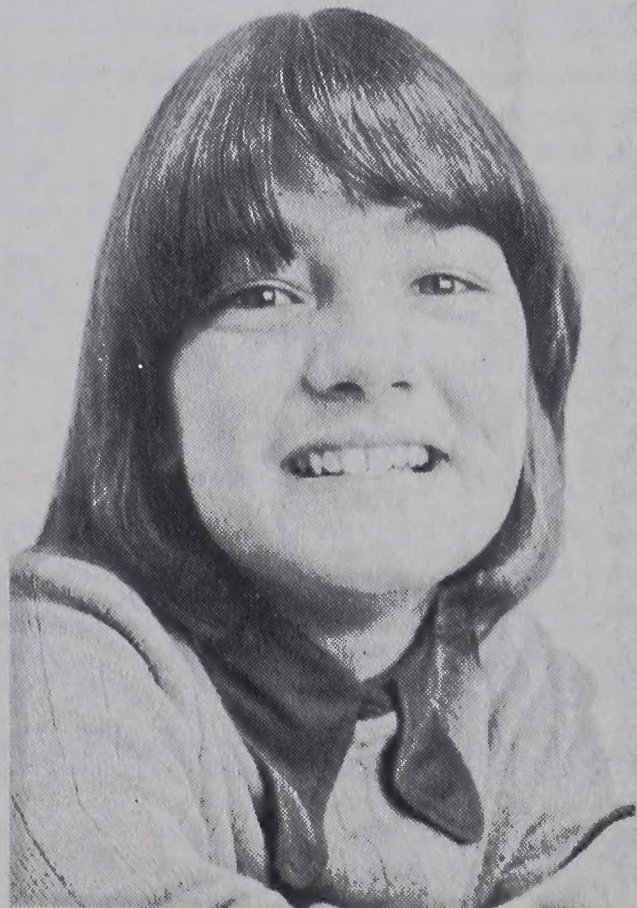

A good student in Grade six, Gail likes school and works hard.

Gail likes to read and loves music and dancing. She is good at crafts of all kinds and these days is doing a lot of crocheting.

Gail will be a fine daughter for flexible, warm parents who will want to spend much time with her, who will help her build self-confidence and who will understand that, like most 12-year-olds, she is occasionally moody. She will do best in a small family where she is the youngest.

To inquire about adopting Gail, please write to Today's Child, Ministry of Community & Social Services, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. In your letter tell something of your present family and your way of life.

Physical fitness

by Margaret Milne

Most of you have seen the Participation ads on television. Probably they have caught your attention as they have mine, because they are clever and attractive. But I have one serious complaint about them. Women are not pictured "participating". At best, women are only watching, and at worst, interfering. I believe these ads could do us a real service by encouraging women to get out there and exercise too.

Women athletes have made great progress in having more events included for them in international competition. Yet there still seems to be a hesitance for many women to seriously engage in athletic activity. Some feeling seems to exist that rigorous athletics are somehow not feminine. It's rather important that we put that notion aside. Modern conveniences have played havoc with the level of women's fitness, as much as with men's. Automobiles and household appliances have made the homemaker's work much less physically demanding. And women who hold jobs away from home are usually not doing work sufficiently demanding physically to stay in good shape.

Women need exercise as much as men, but they do not need as much exercise. A mother of young children may protest that she works hard all day, and is always tired. The tiredness however, is partly caused by tension, from always being busy, always responsible, always on call. Babies and young children can be a 24 hour a day job. A woman needs to be fit to have the strength to stay on top of that job. She may even find that a session of hard exercising may leave her feeling less tired, because it leaves her feeling more relaxed.

Women who are having children also experience the special strains on their bodies associated with bearing children. A woman who keeps her back strong, muscles in use, and heart and lungs fit, is in much better shape to have a healthy, trouble-free pregnancy and delivery. She will probably be able to continue exercising through most of her pregnancy, and will be anxious to get back to it soon afterwards. Certainly most women are very much aware of the need to "get back into shape", after having a baby. This can be a good time to start an exercise program, as motivation is often high at this time. Moreover, the exercising gives mom a break from the baby, helps her relax and reminds her to look after herself. New moms sometimes forget to do things for themselves in their enthusiasm to give the baby the best possible care. That can lead to unhappy feelings.

Gears win

Champagne shower for Wren Blair

A champagne shower was part of the reward for Haliburton's Wren Blair, owner of the Saginaw Gears, in Michigan, when his team took the championships of the International Hockey League, The Turner Cup, last Wednesday.

This is the 11th championship Mr. Blair has either coached, or been a part of since 1952. "I've been a part of this on just about every level except the NHL", he said after the win.

"Everyone of them has been fun and this is the best since it's happening now. But the pressure is going to be on us next year. Every one will be out to get us. That's the way it is when you win".

The Saginaw News reported that it was a tense battle until a third period goal by Stu Irving. The game ended Saginaw 5, Toledo 0. But the game could have gone either way as Saginaw was nursing a 1-0 lead until Irving's score with just 10 minutes left in the game.

Mr. Blair had worn his lucky shirt to the game. "When I left Haliburton I told my wife to iron this shirt. I told her I can't go to the game without it. It's fraying around the collar, but I wasn't going to wear any other", he said.

His wife, Elma, stayed here planting flowers because she feared she might jinx the team, said Mr. Blair.

The game played before a sellout crowd of 5,463 at the Saginaw Civic Centre. A closed circuit TV was watched by 600 more fans, but was described as "a poor picture".

This is some of the damage done to the railway tracks crossing 519 in Haliburton yesterday. Ontario Provincial Police officer, Roy Telford, said he suspects the damage was caused by the bottom skids on a tractor trailer belly loader. The driver said the load weighs about 27,000 lb. and that he hadn't even noticed if he had hit the line. Another truck was also involved in the incident.

Another special consideration in women's need for exercise, is their relative freedom from heart trouble. During her child-bearing years, a woman is less prone to heart trouble than a man. This is one reason why she needs somewhat less exercise than a man. After menopause, she begins to lose that advantage, and should step up her fitness exercising requirements accordingly.

The other reason that women need somewhat less exercising than men, is that women are smaller than men on the average. A woman's capacity for physical work is also less, then, in keeping with her smaller size, heart and lung capacity and blood volume.

When a woman begins a vigorous exercise program, her mind is often on the improvement she expects to see in her appearance. This should certainly happen. In time, she will become trimmer. Added strength and endurance will improve her posture and grace of movement. Exercise helps one both to look and to feel better. Since, the way one feels affects the way one looks, and the reverse is also true, no woman will want to give up the benefits of exercise once she has tried it. Calisthenics are good for warm ups, if you're concerned about your appearance benefitting, because they strengthen many little used muscles, and so improve ones mobility and gracefulness. Before you go running or bicycling (or whatever you do for your fitness exercise), warm up with toe-touching, leg-raising, trunk-circling, side-bends, sit-ups, etc.

For most women, menstruation will not affect their exercise program at all. If you are bothered by cramps or heavy flow, you may feel less than enthusiastic about your regular exercise. But do it anyway. Perhaps you will want to go slower, or not as far and long. The exercise will make you feel better, and can be particularly beneficial in dealing with cramps.

Women with young families may find it hard to get away to exercise.

There is the option of indoor exercise, of course. But, I would advise you to make every effort to arrange to go out for exercise. The fresh air and break from household routine is really uplifting. The only time for me to go, that is convenient to both me and my family, is right before supper. I had thought this might be rather a nuisance in delaying supper. But it turned out that the exercise left me feeling well, relaxed and quite adequate to that problem. For some, late evening might be the only time. If you can, arrange to go with another woman. You will give each other encouragement to keep going.

Another possibility for the babysitting problem is to take baby. Push him in the stroller for a fast walk. Or make a circular running track somewhere and let her play in the middle. Or get a baby seat for your bicycle.

Only the second suggestion works for more than one small child. If you have more than one toddler, you might try to join up with some friends and share the babysitting. Or do indoor exercises, if all else fails.

Next week I'll write more details about indoor exercises.

Street sewer line position will be reconsidered

A petition by several North Water Street residents has brought about a reconsideration of the proposed position of the street's sewer line.

Street resident, Philip Graham, says the petition by residents that asked that the sewer line not be placed between the north side of the road and their houses, has reached a satisfactory solution.

Reg Booth, Reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden, explains that for two to three years engineers had been examining the area looking at alternate routes, but had decided that other ways of installation would be too expensive.

The field behind the houses was considered too swampy and concern was expressed that putting the sewer line on the south side of the road, along the river bank, would contribute to erosion, says Mr. Booth, now the proposed plan is to go under the road.

As a result it was decided to go up the road allowance on the north side, however, a water line already runs along the edge of the road.

"It's considered proper to keep sewer lines at least eight feet from water lines, depending on the soil", adds Mr. Booth, therefore they decided to go higher up the road allowance, further into people's lawns.

But the residents complained that this would force the destruction of many trees and some hedges that could not be replaced for decades. "I agree with those people", notes Mr. Booth, adding that sewer routes have been altered in other places to save trees.

He says the contractor is now estimating extra funds required for the new proposed route. The plan and new costs then go to Queen's Park for approval which he says he hopes to have within a week. This is necessary because the province will only pay for approved expenses. If the North Water Street contract goes over budget then the municipal tax payers could end up paying the difference.

Mr. Booth points out that the new route does entail a few problems because North Water Street will have to be closed. He says a plan to build a road through the Stouffer survey, over municipal land to the arena, then out to Bobcaygeon Road, will be advanced to create a bypass and to allow residents access.

Unfortunately, this means several pine trees on municipal land will have to be cut down, he notes. "We are going to try to cut down as few as possible", he says.

$3,000 earth moving

A $3,000 earth moving project will be started behind the Stanhope Garage and Fire Hall to provide a baseball diamond for a team that has been organized and is still lacking a place to play.

The work is to be completed by June 1, John Barclay of the Stanhope Recreation Committee assured ball players at last Wednesday's council meeting, following approval given by Stanhope council to go ahead with the project that will cost $2,000 more than the committee has been allocated to date.

Council promised that the money would be found somewhere, although there would not be enough for bleachers.

H.H.S.S. News

BY BECKY DAVIDSON

On Monday, May 9, our badminton teams travelled to Lindsay and won the Victoria-Haliburton Badminton Tournament. Our undefeated teams were Darlene and Donelda Danilko (senior girls doubles), Larry Stinson and Grant Wallace (senior boys doubles), Andy Salvatori and Jocelyn Kennedy (junior mixed doubles) and Mary Darby (girls singles).

Mr. Robertson's and Mr. C. Wallace's A4 geography students took a two day trip to Toronto May 10 and 11. The purpose of their trip was to make an extensive study of the downtown district and lakefront as part of their study of urban geography.

The Senior Band and Stage Band travelled to Haverall College, in Toronto, May 12 and 13. Fortunately, the Senior Band blazers had arrived on time. The Stage Band wore their "Opus 17" T-shirts. Both bands played very well at an assembly for Haverall College, Friday, May 13.

On May 12 our track and field team went to Fenelon Falls to compete in the Kawartha West Track and Field Meet, which it won again. Our school's name is the only one on the trophy.

Miss Koehler and 15 students from the "Outers" club went on a 5-day canoe trip May 6-10 in Algonquin Park.

H.H.S.S. first Trasharama by the G1D class was extremely successful. These hard working students were able to fill two half-ton trucks with garbage ranging from tires to scrap metal to four garbage bags of pop cans from the area surrounding the school. A prize of $20 was given to Herb Rosenberg's group, $10 to Bailey Hamilton's group and $5 to Ted Picher's group. Congratulations on a job well done.

300 attend H.H. S.E.S. annual Activity Night

More than 300 persons showed up for Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School's Activity Night last Wednesday.

The audience of parents, other students and relatives were treated to an over two hour long show. Featured was a band performance, gymnastics display, choir singing by Grade 4 classes and a staff-student floor hockey game.

By far the most thrilling event was the gymnastics display as students ran from one side of the school gym to leap over up to seven students crouched on the gym mats. There were several gasps from the crowd as it sometimes appeared that the jumper might not make it and would crash into a classmate below.

Also, high on the excitement list was the staff versus student floor hockey game which the teachers lost 3-2. Many students couldn't resist the chance to boo the teachers whenever they scored, and their cheers could have knocked the walls down as the winning goal was scored.

The Grade 4 choir provided a pleasant ending to the evening that had also included a dance involving the audience and a display of the cheering abilities of the school cheerleaders.

That's the way they piled up as Maria Rosenberg, Grade 6 (on top); Lianne Bittman, Grade 6, and Susan Stamp, Grade 7; with Jennifer Williams, Grade 6 and Cathy Mosgrove, Bethany Wood, Grade 7 (on bottom) formed a pyramid as part of H.H.S.E.S. Activity Night.

Todd Emmerson, Grade 6, displays his goal tending skill as he deflects a shot from Grade 7 teacher, Ed Whiteway, during a game between the H.H.S.E.S. Floor Hockey team and the staff. The teachers lost 3-2.

Ray Johnson, Grade 4 teacher, conducts both activity night as he plays the guitar. The students Grade 4 classes of H.H.S.E.S. during the schools finished to strong applause from the audience.

Congratulations! Elsewhere in this paper you will read about the recent Chamber of Commerce convention. We are very pleased to add our congratulations to Bob Stinson for capturing the President's Award this year for his weekly column. It was well earned!

We might comment, however, on the lack of local support for such important events as that convention. We understand that Bob was the one and only representative there from this very large sector of the Province.

It is unfortunate that the very people he works so diligently to help cannot find the time to take part in such policy-making meetings. Seems there's always plenty of time for criticism.

I am reminded of another convention that took place in early April, when the largest club in the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs was without official representation. Yes, I refer to the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association. One would have thought, from the amount of OFSC criticism emanating from this club last year that its voting delegates would have been front row centre.

The same lethargic, "Let George do it", attitude prevails right down the line. A few directors in the HCSA

The time for appreciation is now at hand. And the most welcome compliment the HCSA could have would be your presence at their general meeting next Sunday afternoon. Gems of Truth

(cont'd from last week)

The moral order of the Ten Commandments is quite evident. First, is mentioned the all-inclusive place that God is to have in our lives. Then, we are warned against bringing anything between us and God as we worship Him. Next, we are commanded to reverence the name of God. That sacred name is not to be used lightly by us in speech, nor are we to take His name and bring dishonour upon it by our conduct.

Then, we are taught to give a portion of our time to rest, worship and the doing of good. This is followed by the duty of children to parents which is our first responsibility in a home. The sixth commandment stresses the sacredness of human life and the seventh follows logically after the one that safeguards that life. This one is a safeguard of the home. Thus, these last two commandments stand as security of life and of the home. The violation of these, God-given instructions spells havoc to home life and that of a nation. Exodus 20:13-14.

When man was created, the home was the first of human institutions that was ordained by the Lord God. Gen. 1:27-31, Ephesians 5:31-33. It was established in Eden, in the time of man's innocence, and that "first" union was the ideal and type of the true marriage relation. Mark 10:6-9. When Jesus gave a summary of the Law to the young ruler, He put this seventh commandment first, thereby signifying the place that "family purity" had in His mind for human conduct. Mark 10:19. Any deviation from that original ideal of one permanent union until "death doth part" is a sin against God. It is a willful disruption of a Divine institution and an act of willful disobedience to the revealed will of God. This sin, once committed, will produce automatically, a state of spiritual barrenness of the soul. Only the mighty convicting power of the Holy Spirit and the grace of God can save such a one from eternal ruin.

The seventh commandment is more far-reaching in its scope than it appears at first sight. It condemns not only one form of impurity, but all forms. The word "adultery" is also rendered as "unchaste" by some Hebrew scholars, as it has this all-inclusive meaning. The sin of unchastity, committed both within and without the marriage relation, has been the root cause of much of the misery to the human race. It sapped the life of great nations of the past and will do the same in our day. It destroyed their morals and corrupted their whole social structure. It produced family, factional and national funds which resulted in murder, war and desolation. Even the "Chosen People" were viciously affected by the disregard of the law of "sowing and reaping" and it was the contributing cause in their downfall as they followed the "unchaste" practices of their heathen neighbours. Jer. 5:8 30:27.

This same sin of "unchastity" is as universal and destructive as ever. Even in so-called Christian lands, this evil is a terrible blight to the physical, mental and social life of our peoples. For the most part, the wholesome, pure-minded Christian people have but a vague idea of the prevalence of this great evil and its terrible and costly toll on the bodies, souls and properties of our society. But our medical men and social workers know something of the enormity of this vice. More and more it is flaunted in public with no condemnation. Our modern loose standards of marriage and divorce have thrown a specious cloak over this monstrosity. The marriage bond can be broken and renewed as often as suits the convenience of some persons and their actions are excused, condoned and even applauded by a large percentage of our people. The modern church has little to say in condemnation of the violators of the seventh commandment. But the law of God has not been abrogated or amended. It still stands and the sin of adultery is just as great in His sight as it has ever been and still meets with His disapproval. Rev. 21:8, Gal. 6:7.

Doug Wells, 9, Mike Parrish, 10 and Stephanie Wells, 7, all of Haliburton are a little concerned about this broken bottle they found on Rotary Beach. The children indicated that there was other debris in the beach area. They are hoping that it gets cleaned up before the swimming season starts.

Council gets letter concerning ski jump

A solicitor's letter sent to Stanhope council, on behalf of Mr. & Mrs. Robert Townsend, property owners on Kushog lake, who have questioned council's decision to forbid water ski slalom courses in the township, last Wednesday asked for a copy of the bylaw that would give power to council's decision.

According to the Ontario Municipal Act, the solicitor noted, council was able to forbid slalom courses in the interest of the inhabitants of the municipality if the decision was upheld by a bylaw. Council originally forbade the construction of a slalom course by resolution only at the February 9 meeting.

Last week, May 11, they passed a supporting bylaw to forbid the construction of slalom courses or water ski jumps in the municipality.

Clerk Gerald Bain noted to council that the earlier resolution stood as a resolution of intent to forbid slalom courses.

Councillor Napier Simpson re-stated council's position that "the water is public domain and to put any fixed structure on it is wrong".

"I think we'll just stand our guns, and if they want to take us to court, we'll go," Reeve Sinclair Nesbitt said, adding that "there's no doubt" that council has the support of the cottager's associations.

The associations have all been contacted and asked to send in a statement of their membership's opinion on water ski courses as council determined at the April 13 meeting.

Mortgages sold on lake lots

The mortgage on two township lots, on Kushog Lake, sold recently for a total of $15,000 to go towards the Stanhope Library, "counts as money in the bank" as far as the Wintario grant structure is concerned, Stanhope council learned last Wednesday, but it will not be held by the township.

The lots were donated to the municipality on the condition that their sale would go towards the fund for the library construction. Council discussed selling the mortgage at face value, primarily to save administration worries. Reeve Sinclair Nesbitt and Councillor John Tomlinson, both indicated a willingness to purchase the mortgage "as a last resort" if no other buyer could be contacted.

"I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the LORD." PSALMS 122:1

another in the power of Elijah, and this was accomplished in the sending of John the Baptist, who would serve as a fore-runner. Mary, the virgin, had conceived in her womb, and had been told why this was happening. Joseph, her espoused husband, was alerted to the fact that Mary had not been unfaithful to him, but was serving a vital role in bringing the Son of God into the world. Yes, God had arranged the fulfillment of the prophecies very well, but there was something that was amiss. Joseph and Mary lived in Nazareth of Galilee, and the Christ-child was to arise in Bethlehem of Judaea, some 75 miles to the south. How could this be accomplished?

The Roman Government, unknowingly, played a part in the fulfilment of this. Let Luke tell us the circumstances: Luke 2:1-6 - "And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.) And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David): to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child. And so it was, that while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered."

In Bethlehem, the places to stay were apparently filled, and it was necessary for Jesus to be born in very modest surroundings. The gospel writer, Luke, describes the situation: "And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped Him in swaddling clothes, and laid Him in a manger; because there was no room in the inn." Luke 2:7. That is the complete scripture record of the place in which He was born. There is no mention of animals being present, nor, is there any indication given by scripture of animals speaking as is sometimes depicted in fancitized versions of the birth of Christ.

That He was born in something less than a palace is amply clear, but over and beyond the point, it would be pure conjecture on our part to suggest any additional details. Let's let the scripture record suffice.

Next week, a look at the supernatural events that took place at his birth. See you then.

of year

THIS is a time of year when a lot of school teachers get a sinking feeling.

All year they have been laboring in the fairly barren vineyards of their students, sustained by the knowledge that there is still time to produce a green shoot or two, and maybe even enough grapes to make some kind of brew.

Suddenly, there are only 16 teaching days left, and there is the dreadful realization that they have exhausted all their skills, and that it had about as much effect on Susie and Joe as would a bucket of water poured over a seal. It just doesn't stick.

Thus, when they should be looking forward with anticipation to end of term and summer vacation, many teachers find themselves instead in a veritable Slough of Despond.

It is the students' perennial belief in miracles that puts the teachers onto anti-depressant pills about now.

Aside from school work, adolescents are not dumb. They are quite aware that education these days is a sociological jungle from which they have a far better chance of emerging unscathed than do those poor devils who try to teach them.

They know that in our enlightened society, "failure" is a dirty word, and that everyone from the Minister of Education, through the school board, down to their classroom teacher, will do back flips trying to avoid pinning such a label on them.

Many students know perfectly well that they can goof around most of the year, play truant, miss assignments, be late with essays, and nothing very terrible will happen to them.

In fact, if they go around looking serious and sincere for the last few weeks, and do a little work, there's every chance that they will scrape or scramble through, only to repeat the whole process the next year.

Born and raised in a society where it is no shame to accept charity, because it's now dignified as welfare, where unemployment insurance is a cosy cushion against adversity, where their aged parents will be looked after by the state, where the work ethic is scorned, where the semi-literate hockey player or pop star is not only idolized but rich, the kids are not going to get their shirts in a knot over something as apparently irrelevant as doing well at school.

And let's not blame them too much. Let's take a look at the world we're passing on to them.

It's a world strangling-drowning in its own poisons, created by the greed of past generations. The kids see the greed and the poisoning going right on. Small wonder they are a little cynical about some of the virtues such as unselfishness and the golden rule.

It's a world in which the rip-off is admired, on the whole. They see unions ripping off management, management ripping off the consumer, everybody trying to rip off the government. So why not rip off the school system? It's the biggest sucker of all.

It's a world in which the media ponder to the bizarre and violent. The hijacker, the terrorist are overnight sensations. Is it naive to suggest that these are responsible, to some extent, for the bomb warnings, and the incredible vandalism in our schools?

It's a world of drugs. The old man has his drinks every night and gets smashed on the weekend. The old lady has 18 different kinds of pills. Why not run away from reality by emulating them.

It's a world in which the daily papers are full of examples of corruption in high places. A senator here, a president there, has helped himself. So what's wrong with cheating, as long as you aren't caught?

It's a world in which the best and bravest are often bullied by the brutal and helligent. So why not give the teachers a hard time? "They can't do nothin' to ya, anyhow," 'cept senja home. So what? Write a note and sign your old man's name."

Not a very pretty picture? You're right, gentle reader. But this is not an indictment of students. It's a cry of shame for the society we're handing on to them.

Let's restore "failure" to our vocabulary. Let's restore "excellence," another word that's been dropped. Let's show the kids that apathy is ugly, that reason is superior to violence, that love and sex are not synonymous, that compassion and courage far outweigh cruelty and cowardice.

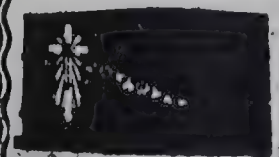

I'm sorry for them, and what we have shown them. But I don't despair. Let's show them it's a beautiful world, and that they are beautiful and that they are needed to make it more beautiful. Then watch them go.

No bag pipe instruction at Haliburton Highland Secondary School

Bag pipe instruction will not become a part of the music curriculum at Haliburton County Schools, although county principals will make every effort to assist any independent program of pipe instruction that could be carried on at the schools, Douglas Hodgson, director of the board of education told the May 10 meeting of trustees.

The decision was made at a recent meeting of principals and Mr. Hodgson. The request to begin instruction in grades seven and eight music programs was made to the April meeting of the board by Don Johnson, band master of the Haliburton Legion Pipe Band.

In his report to the trustees last week, Mr. Hodgson explained that the principals could see the advantage of the pipe band and of pipe instruction in the county, but that "the introduction of another music course would take away from one or both" of the music programs already established.

Most elementary schools in the county have instrumental music programs, with the exception of Dorset and Cardiff schools, Mr. Hodgson said. Vocal music programs have also been instituted.

that the Haliburton Board spends the most of any board in Ontario in relation to the number of students on its music programs, and that the principals didn't feel there was the money for pipe instruction.

As with piano instruction given at the schools, paid for by parents, the principals agreed to give space, time and encouragement to anyone who wanted to come into the schools to teach bag pipes in lunch hours, after school or in spare time during the day.

Earl Cooper, trustee for Dysart et al as well as pipe master of the Legion Pipe Band, commented that he was pleased with the arrangement and that it would work out quite well with the instructor that Mr. Johnson had in mind.

It was suggested that some community group might also be willing to support the cost of the program.

The Haliburton Chamber of Commerce recently won the President's Award for 1977 from Exchange magazine, published by the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, for communication excellence. The award was for the column by Bob Stinson, published in the Haliburton County Echo and the Minden Recorder.

Home of the Week

PLAN NO. 701080

AREA: 1080 sq. ft.

WIDTH: 53 ft.

53'-0"

Plan No. 70-1080

This economical three-bedroom, full basement home is designed for a wide lot. The ranch style offers a maximum living area in a floor space under 1,000 feet and for future development has the same area in the basement.

There is a direct entry from the single carport to the utility, located on the main floor and has easy access from the living areas. By re-locating the utility in the basement, this space could be used for storage or make an ideal mud-room. If you prefer this option you may wish to retain the carport door or add a door to the exterior at the rear.

The family kitchen creates an informal atmosphere, accented by the exposed brick of the chimney for the wood-burning fireplace in the living room.

The three bedrooms are serviced by a central three piece bathroom, which also acts as a guest powder room, convenient to all activity areas.

Enhanced by a covered entry and rustic siding, this traditional low cost charmer has a long, low appearance. With the additional basement area this house is ideal for the growing family.

Plans for design No. 70-1080 may be obtained at a cost of $50 for the first set and $9 for each additional set, plus $3.50 postage and handling. B.C. residents please include 7 percent sales tax.

Send for the current edition of Select Home Designs, Series #33, featuring imaginative decorating and home improvement ideas, plus more than 300 quality home plans of every type. Available for $2.25 ($1.75 plus 50 cents postage and handling). To order these items please send cheque or money order payable to the Home of the Week. Address to: Home of the Week, c/o Haliburton County Echo, 382 West Broadway, Vancouver, B.C. V5Y 1R2.

Special stock sales this month

Six special trial sales will take place at the Ontario Stockyards in Toronto starting in mid-May, in which beef cattle will be held by auction on the basis of carcass weight or carcass weight and grade.

These sales are the end result of considerable discussion involving several segments of the beef industry and especially the Ontario Cattlemen's Association.

One major problem has been how to ensure identification of the carcass. A tagging system has been developed along with a minimum of 15 steers or heifers in each sale lot -- it is hoped that with the co-operation of all parties involved, this will overcome this problem.

The first two sales -- on May 16 and 30 -- will have all bidding on a carcass weight basis. The sales on June 6 and 13 will have bidding on the basis of carcass weight and predetermined grade differentials at the last sales on June 20 and 27, the seller can specify either carcass weight only, or carcass weight and predetermined grade differential.

With the grade differentials, the bidding will be based on Canada Grade A1 and 2 carcasses. If the animal produces a lower grade carcass, then a set price differential will apply.

The terms and conditions of sale also cover a variety of other aspects.

These will be trial sales -- if this approach to selling has merit and any problems are worked out, it will provide beef buyers with another alternative system to competitively sell his cattle.

FARM VEHICLES ON THE HIGHWAY
Most farmers are aware of the law in regard to tractors and implements on highway but just to review here are some of the areas of concern.

A highway is any provincial, county or township road and all of these provisions apply. A slow moving vehicle sign is required on the rear of all tractors or implements travelling on the highway. It should be mounted 3-5 feet above the ground. Because the sign must be visible from a distance they should be wiped clean periodically. We're also aware that after several years the signs lose their reflective properties giving no protection at night. If your signs are showing there age check to see if they should be replaced.

The driver of a farm tractor does not need a drivers licence but he or she must be 16 to drive on the road. Young people under 15 may drive direct across a road, but not along the road.

Over the past few years tractors have dramatically increased in size and horsepower and so has the size of the implements they pull. If the implement is over certain sizes then a permit should be obtained before travelling on the highway. Under the Highway Traffic Act implements more than 8 1/2 feet wide, or a combination of vehicles more than 65 feet long (or a single vehicle more than 35 feet long) will require an over size permit.

Permits are issued at no charge by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications, Toronto. We have a supply of the application forms in the Agricultural Office.

IN MEMORIAM

COUMBS - In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Lolly, who passed away May 21, 1972.

Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear,
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sweet to remember him who once was here,
Who, though absent, is just as dear.

Always remembered by wife Kay, daughter Judy, mother-in-law May.

OUTDOOR WOOD™

Wolmanized®
Pressure-Treated Lumber

Build beautiful, permanent patios

When you build outside, use Outdoor™ brand wood. It needn't be stained or painted. It isn't bothered by termites. Won't rot. And stays beautiful for keeps.

This deck was built with Wolmanized® lumber... Outdoor wood. It's ordinary wood—pressure-treated with Wolman® preservative chemicals to keep it handsome, sturdy, and worry-free for dozens of years.

Considering how long Outdoor wood lasts, it's relatively inexpensive. Use Outdoor wood for your next project. You can be sure it will have the appearance and shape-holding qualities you expect because Outdoor wood is a high grade of material.

Trent water report

This is the first of our 1977 season weekly news columns on the Trent-Severn Waterway. We endeavour to keep cottagers, boaters and visitors to the Reservoir Lakes and the Waterway informed of water levels, flows and other interesting happenings around the system.

The navigation season begins on Friday, May 20, and is expected to be the beginning of a busy summer.

The user permit fees are the same as last year with the exception of a new permit for Senior Canadian Citizens with a craft 24 feet or under.

The permit will be issued free of charge provided the application is supported by proof of age (i.e. Birth Certificate and/or a Senior Citizen's Card) along with documentation that the boat they are using is either owned, rented or borrowed. The Senior Citizen must be on the boat when the permit is used for lockages.

The permits will be available from either lockstations which sell permits or the Waterway Headquarters, Peterborough.

This past winter the severe weather had promised a large freshet when spring came. Instead the early thaw which was not accompanied by appreciable amounts of rainfall produced only a moderately low runoff. A lot of the water probably infiltrated the ground to recharge the aquifers which were low enough last fall to give many people shortages in their wells.

On May 12, 1977 the reservoir storage amounted to 90 percent of maximum which is very close to the recommended safe limit.

This water is not evenly distributed in the lakes, but will be quite soon when we begin to draw water for use in the canal.

The Otonabee River outflows at Peterborough are being held at low summer flows already to maintain levels at the Kawartha Lakes without the benefit of reservoir water. Evaporation losses there are still very low so that local inflow around the Kawarthas themselves, plus minimal flows from the Haliburton area are sufficient.

has a new president, and for the first time a lady, in the person of Loretta Nesbitt. The Book for Entries will be out very soon now.

Mrs. W. Casey, Mrs. A. Milburn and Mrs. J. McKelvey attended a Casev funeral at Omemee, on May 5th, of a nephew of the Warner Caseys.

Mr. & Mrs. Ron Burk enjoyed a weeks holiday visiting relatives at Ajax and Oshawa.

In Barrie, May 12, 13, 14, once again the Minden Rotary Club has won the District 701 World Conference Attendance Trophy. This year it was won in New Orleans. Coming up cities for this Conference are San Francisco for 1977 and Tokyo, 1978.

Harcourt nest

Waulzy Gerow, a Harcourt resident, says "We think we have an eagles nest and would like some qualified naturalist to confirm it".

It is situated on a high stub on the north half of Lot 20, Conc. 4, Harcourt Township.

The nest and birds can now be seen because they are nesting and it is situated so you can see it from off County Road 10 looking west approximately 300 yards from where fish creek crosses the county road.

This county road used to be called Elephant Lake Road.

In hospital

In the Haliburton Red Cross Hospital this week are Mrs. Shannon Patterson and baby girl, Mr. W. Ribers, Mrs. Eva McPhail, Mr. Howard Roberts and Mr. Peter Schaefer.
